WHOLE No. 1207

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

Degeneration.

By Prof. MAX NORDAU. Translated from the second edition of the German work. 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

This brilliant analysis of the literary, æsthetic, and social phases of the end of the century includes an examination of decadence in France, the work of Maeterlinck in Belgium, Wagnerism in Germany, Ibsenism in the north, and other aspects of contemporary æstheticism which are dissected with a thoroughness that renders the book a most remarkable contribution to social psychology. Prof. Nordau summarizes the mental unrest and thirst for novelty, which he finds as symptoms of a phase of alienism due to two generations of overstimulated nerves. His survey is modern to the last degree, and his conclusions are of intense interest. His fascinating and most suggestive book gives a picture of the æsthetic manipulation of the times, drawn with rare adroitness, vigor, and command of satire, and it will be found to hold a place which has not been occupied.

Majesty.

A Novel. By LOUIS COUPERUS. Translated by A. TEIXEIRA DE MATTOS and ERNEST DOWSON. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

"There have been many workers among novelists in the field of royal portraiture, but it may be safely stated that few of those who have essayed this dubious path have achieved more striking results than M. Couperus. 'Majesty' is an extraordinarily vivid romance of autocratic imperialism, and the main aim of the book is so legitimate, and its treatment so sympathetic and artistic, that it is to be regretted that the author should have adopted the portrait form at all. The striking but superficial resemblance between the leading characters of the story and those of more than one reigning imperial house will no doubt prove a bait to readers hungry for personalities; but the real merits of the book—its dramatic intensity and powerful characterization—are entirely independent of this factitious interest."—London Academy.

The Mermaid.

By L. DOUGALL, author of "Beggars All," "What Necessity Knows," etc. No. 163, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

A new novel by the popular author of "Beggars All" will be welcomed by a multitude of readers who have learned to value the spirit, sustained interest, and good taste of this successful writer.

The Story of the Stars.

Simply Told for General Readers. By GEORGE F. CHAMBERS, F.R.A.S., author of "A Handbook of Descriptive and Practical Astronomy," etc. 16mo, boards, illustrated, 30 cents.

This is the first volume in a popular series entitled The Library of Useful Stories, written in clear, concise language by recognized authorities, and presenting the leading and latest facts of science, history, etc. The present volume furnishes an outline of the science of astronomy which will be found to be of great value by those who wish a general survey of modern astronomy presented in a comparatively brief space.

READY NEXT WEEK:

VOLUME IV. OF THE

History of the People of the United States.

By JOHN BACH McMASTER.

[To be completed in six volumes.]

8vo, Cloth, Gilt Top, $2.50.

D. APPLETON & CO., Publishers, 72 Fifth Ave., New York.

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY'S NEW BOOKS.

PUBLISHED MARCH 16th.

THE REAL CHINAMAN.

By CHESTER HOLCOMBE, late Secretary U. S. Legation at Peking. Illustrated with 80 engravings from photographs collected by the author. Bound with the royal emblems stamped on the imperial Chinese yellow. 8vo, $2.00.

Mr. Holcombe's residence of sixteen years in China, his masterly and ready use of the language, and his exceptional opportunities for knowing the Chinese in their homes, have qualified him, as few Americans are qualified, to describe the Chinaman not as he seems, but as he is.

LESSER QUESTIONS.

Serious essays on the Woman of To-day by Lady JEUNE. Cloth, 12mo, $1.75.

Practical, judicious handling of the new woman question, chapters on "London Society," "Conversation," "The Crinoline," "Helping the Fallen," "The Creed of the Poor," indicate the drift of the book and the versatility of its author.

THE WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES.

By C. DE VARIGNY. Translated from the French by Arabella Ward. 12mo, $1.25.

The author was for several years in the French consular service in this country, and his studies, on their appearance in the Revue des Deux Mondes, provoked considerable criticism both in France and America on account of their extreme candor. American woman will at least have an opportunity of seeing themselves "as others see us" in a work of a highly entertaining and instructive character.

STRANGE PAGES FROM FAMILY PAPERS.

By T. F. THISELTON DYER, author of "Great Men at Play," "The Ghost World," etc. 12mo, $1.50.

A singular collection of strange legends, superstitions, and traditions taken from the leaves of old family chronicles, and a vivid account of the weird and fatal spell which they have oftentimes cast over their victims.

FORTHCOMING BOOKS.

THE IMPREGNABLE CITY.

A Novel by MAX PEMBERTON, author of "The Iron Pirate," "Jewel Mysteries," etc. 12mo, $1.25.

Max Pemberton's stories for boys brought him to the front some time ago, and his "Jewel Mysteries" met with a wide appreciation last autumn. In the novel now issued he has produced a strong bit of work which will give him a place among the new novelists.

ATHLETICS SERIES.

BICYCLING FOR HEALTH AND PLEASURE.

An Indispensable Guide to the Successful Use of the Wheel. By LUTHER H. PORTER. With illustrations. 16mo, $1.00.

GOLF AND GOLFING.

By JAMES P. LEX. With illustrations. 16mo, $1.00.

This series will consist of popular up-to-date handbooks on athletic sports, each volume to be written by an expert, who will aim at being thoroughly practical and will keep in view the needs of amateurs rather than professionals.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES UNDER THE CONSTITUTION.

By JAMES SCHOULER, LL.D. A new and revised edition, with new historical maps added. 5 vols., 8vo, $11.25.

The first two volumes have been rewritten and are printed from new plates. Volume 6, completing the author's plan, is now in active preparation.

PHENIX SERIES.

We have added to our popular Phenix Series the following volumes:

THE ABBE CONSTANTIN.

By LUDOVIC HALÉVY. With numerous illustrations by Madeleine Le Maire. 16mo.

A YOUNG GIRL'S WOOING.

By E. P. ROE. 16mo.

THE CHRONICLES OF THE SCHONBERG-COTTA FAMILY.

By MRS. CHARLES. 16mo.

THE SECRET OF AN EMPIRE SERIES.

Volume II. NAPOLEON III.

From the French of PIERRE DE LANO. With portrait. 12mo, $1.25.

In this volume De Lano unveils the real character of the enigmatical emperor to history as relentlessly as he did that of the empress in his previous volume.

CONTEMPORARY WRITERS SERIES.

Edited by W. ROBERTSON NICOLL, LL.D.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

By S. R. CROCKETT and Miss ANNIE MACDONELL.

These volumes are intended to be introductions and companions to the works of the greater contemporary writers. They comprise such facts, biographical and bibliographical, as are necessary to the elucidation of the subjects along with a full critical study in each case.

THE LIFE OF CARTER HENRY HARRISON,

Late Mayor of Chicago. By WILLIS J. ABBOT. With portraits and other illustrations in photogravure. 8vo, gilt top, $2.50.

SCOTTISH SKETCHES.

By AMELIA E. BARR. Cloth, 12mo, $1.25.

A re-issue volume from Mrs. Barr's pen on Scottish subjects.

HYGIENE AND PHYSICAL CULTURE FOR WOMEN.

By ANNA M. GALBRAITH, M.D., Fellow New York Academy of Medicine. Commendatory Note by Dr. B. St. John Roosa, President New York Academy of Medicine. With 100 illustrations. (Immediately.)

This work has been in preparation for many years, and the results drawn from personal investigation and the latest conclusions of eminent medical authorities are set forth in a lucid and convincing manner by its able author.

NOTES IN SEASON.

GINN & Co. have in press "Gibbon's Memoirs," edited, with an introduction and notes, by Oliver Farrar Emerson, Assistant Professor of Rhetoric and English Philology in Cornell University.

PORTER & COATES announce a new and cheaper edition of T. S. Arthur's famous book "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room." The book is illustrated, and attractively bound in cloth, and in these days of temperance agitation will no doubt prove a better seller than ever.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish at once W. E. Gladstone's new book on "The Psalter, according to the Prayer-Book Version." The work was commenced by Mr. Gladstone many years ago, and it is only since his retirement from the political arena that he has been able to finish it. He has also compiled a concordance, and added a series of notes on the Psalter.

MACMILLAN & Co. have in preparation a new uniform edition of Rudyard Kipling's prose tales in six twelvemo volumes. The volumes are to be published in the following order: "Under the Deodars, The Phantom Rickshaw, and Wee Willie Winkie," with additional matter now published for the first time; "Soldiers Three, The Story of the Gadsbys, and Black and White," also with additional matter; "Plain Tales from the Hills," "The Light That Failed," "Life's Handicap," and "The Naulahka." The new volume in Macmillan's Illustrated Standard Novels is Marryat's "Japhet in Search of a Daughter," with an introduction by David Hannay, and illustrations by Henry M. Brock.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have just ready "The Real Chinaman," a study of Chinese life and character by Chester Holcombe, for many years secretary of the American legation at Peking; "Lesser Questions," a collection of bright and practical essays on social and general topics by that sprightly writer, Lady Jeune; "Strange Pages from Family Papers," a collection of curious legends, superstitions and traditions gathered from old family chronicles by T. F. Thiselton Dyer, well known as an explorer of "The Ghost World"; also "The Women of the United States," by C. De Varigny, for some years in the French consular service in this country, whose studies of American life, first published in the Revue de Deux Mondes, aroused considerable comment both in France and America on account of their crisp candor.

THE W. B. CONKEY COMPANY, Chicago, have just ready a most interesting volume, entitled "America's Celebrities," a royal quarto, containing 256 full-page half-tone portraits of noted American men and women, who are now building our history, each portrait being accompanied with a brief but comprehensive sketch; "How Salvator Won, and other poems," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox; and "The Strange Case of Henry Toplass and Captain Shiers," by John W. Postgate, an absorbing story of a dual life, written by one of Chicago's best-known journalists. They will publish in May "A Little Queen of Tragedy," by Laura B. Marsh, a volume of entertaining fiction that will include also the author's short sketch "Overcoming the Storm," which won the $500 prize recently offered by The Youth's Companion for the best story.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, given net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

- Davis, R. Harding. The Princess Aline; il. by C. D. Gibson. N. Y., Harper, 1895. c. 3+163 p. D. cl., $1.25. [760]
The hero is a portrait painter strangely susceptible to the charms of the beautiful sex, even when presented in painting or photograph. He succumbs to the fascination of a newspaper portrait of the Princess Aline, the sister of a little German duke of a smaller German Duchy, and immediately leaves America and chases around the cities of Europe in quest of his lady-love. The details of this search and the story of the woman who finally makes a lasting impression make a humorous novelette.

The first two volumes of this collection of Syriac manuscripts will contain the homilies of Aphraates. These discourses were written 337, 344 and 345 A. D., and are of great importance to students of the Scriptures and Christian literature. The Syriac text has been carefully compared with all the known manuscripts. The translation of the homilies has been made by Rev. Dom. J. Parisot, Benedictine monk at the Abbey of Solesmes. The Syriac characters have been specially engraved for this work, which is printed by Firmin-Didot & Co., of Paris. A volume may be expected annually until the collection of over 30,000 pages of Syriac mss. now in hand has been published.

On the death of Mrs. Gildersleeve, on whom Alison Fane believed herself to be dependent, the girl appeals as a last resource to a Mrs. Broderick, and learns that the latter is her grandmother. Mrs. Broderick ungraciously consents to give Alison a temporary home, and imposes certain conditions upon her; later, these conditions are supplemented by a solemn trust. The story tells how Alison fulfils her trust, and gives in detail her business experiences in Exeford, a small manufacturing town.

Linton, Mrs. Eliza Lynn. The new woman; In haste and at leisure. N. Y., The Merriam Co., [1895.] c. 2-461 p. D. cl., $1.50. [791]

Published in England under the second title of "In haste and at leisure." A novel depicting, with some exaggeration, a disagreeable type of the advanced woman. The heroine is a club woman and a great speaker on woman's rights, etc. She is separated from her husband, having made an imprudent marriage at sixteen; she is admired by other men, and carries her independent views to the verge of criminality. The story abounds in scenes from woman's club life, and in queer characters with peculiar views.

Mrs. Joshua Pettigrew, of Stow, a village of Somersetshire, was a thrifty widow with a well-cared-for farm; in the farm was a large room known as "the chamber where the king hid"; it was one of the show places that brought strangers to Stow. Here Mrs. Pettigrew's son had lain on a couch for many years, a helpless invalid from an accident when a boy; sheltered from contact with the world he had become a reader and a dreamer. Beside John Pettigrew's couch, within the picturesque surroundings of "the chamber where the king hid," pretty Tryphena's love-story is evolved.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 16, 1895.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

AN UNSUPPORTED CHARGE AGAINST THE BOOK TRADE OF CHICAGO.

A MAN who furnishes the amount of "copy" that Mr. Edward W. Bok does, daily, weekly, and monthly, to every kind of newspaper, journal, and magazine, can have but little time to read in the quiet, careful manner that alone fits a man to criticise and make assertions founded on accurate comparisons and sound deductions. We trace to this impossibility to crowd more than twenty-four hours into each successive day, the rather sweeping statements made by Mr. Bok, in a recent instalment of his "Literary Leaves," which have been widely copied, and may convey inaccurate, and therefore misleading, information to the many who make it profitable for Mr. Bok to write so much and to read so little. We are surprised to find an article signed with his name, devoid of that kindness and good-nature which, in spite of his unceasing labors, Mr. Bok leaves as a lasting impression upon all who come in contact with him. We think the busy editor has perhaps too far trusted hearsay evidence, or has not hit upon the right pile of statistics and "points" to embody in his article on the output of Chicago publishing houses.

Mr. Bok writes:

"For too long a time has the great Western metropolis been in, what may be justly called, literary disgrace. More trashy novels, more positively indecent stories, more perverted reprints of famous books have come from Chicago during the past five years than from any other city in America....

"It is not pleasant to speak of any city as something akin to a literary sewer, but this is all that even the most prejudiced lover of Chicago can say of the Western city if he has given any attention whatever to its literary output. I fancy that its own residents have but a meagre conception of their city's degradation in a literary sense. With the exception of say five or six houses, which are reputable, the entire publishing interests of Chicago are at an exceedingly low ebb.... Here is a city which commands the admiration of the world in many other respects, yet is so wo-fully lacking in everything that savors of the decent in literature.... The Chicago publishers can command good literary talent if they are so inclined; houses like A. C. McClurg & Co. and Stone & Kimball have proven this.... It would be far better if she produced no books than those which she is now allowing to go from her disreputable publishing houses. Her record then would be nothing, now it is worse than nothing, save for the ray of credit which is reflected upon her now and then by the output of the houses which I have mentioned, and occasionally two or three others."

Mr. Bok begins this tirade by a gasp of delight that Robert Louis Stevenson's posthumous novel "St. Ives" is to be published by a young Chicago publishing house. This house, it seems to him, may perhaps be the "one righteous" that may save the publishing Sodom and Gomorrah of Chicago. Hear how delicately Mr. Bok words this sentiment:

"They published Robert Louis Stevenson's last novel, 'The Ebb Tide,' and now they have secured his posthumous novel, 'St. Ives.' And I am both sorry and glad of it; sorry to see such a novel lost to New York, but glad to see so good a literary plum come to a clean and straightforward house existing in a morass of literary mire."

The names of these fearfully wicked books and their disreputable publishers Mr. Bok wisely omits to enumerate. If we are to take him seriously, Chicago publishers must be sinning hourly in this direction; but a look over books recorded for a whole year from Chicago houses fails to confirm this sweeping condemnation.

In 1894 THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY put on record 243 books published by 53 Chicago publishers, and among this number there are not half a dozen books that can by any stretch of imagination come under the heading of indecent. Has any other city a better record? There may be much indecent matter printed in Chicago. In what large city does this not hold good? But is it fair to call the purveyors, writers or printers of such reading-matter Chicago publishers? The publishers of Chicago may compare their lists of publications for 1894 with those of the publishers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia and leave it to any one who has read them—not only written about them—to decide how the class of literature Mr. Bok has in mind has been divided from a geographical standpoint.

Books that do not get on record in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY are as a rule not issued by publishers who have any right to the name, and can only be mentioned among all the other sins and evils of a great city for which people of one profession cannot be held more responsible than people of another. Long before the young firm mentioned by Mr. Bok began making books, Chicago could point with pride to such firms as S. C. Griggs & Co., A. C. McClurg & Co., The Open Court Publishing Co., and a whole army of scientific, technical and educational publishers who are doing steady uphill work in furnishing information for the masses.

The young firm certainly cannot feel elated by the "faint praise" bestowed by Mr. Bok, and this time for once, we think the latter has gone out of his way to lay bare the very superficial quality of his literary opinion. Mr. Bok's generalities might not unfairly be directed against much of the literary output of the present time of every large city in the world, not one of which is now without its society for the suppressing of the indecent, especially in printed form. Addressed wholly to Chicago they are an insult. We who know and esteem Mr. Bok are sorry he has made such a journalistic blunder.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE'S FIRST SMOKER.

THE organizers of the Booksellers' League have reason to feel justified in the belief that they have called into existence something that was wanted and that bids fair to live. On the evening when the League was officially organized the weather was most unfavorable; yet over eighty persons were present. The night of the 13th, when the League gave its first entertainment, was "simply beastly," yet nearly two hundred came out to give countenance to the affair. It was an inspiring sight to see so many and such distinguished-looking representatives of the book trade gathered together for the first time for recreation and social enjoyment.

The president, Mr. Wing, extended a welcome to those present and introduced the chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Mr. Charles E. Butler, who had provided the following enjoyable programme:

Piano solo by Mr. Pears.

Guitar solo by Mr. Gilman.

Reading by Mr. Streamer.

Songs by Theo. Drury, the Afro-American baritone, whose services were secured through the kindness of Mr. George C. Witworth, of A. D. F. Randolph & Co.

Songs by Dr. Hecht.

Addresses by Mr. J. N. Wing and Charles T. Dillingham.

Violin solo by Mr. Kercher.

Song by Mr. G. Petrie.

Comic song by Mr. A. J. McCormick.

During the intermission light refreshments were served. Tobacco, cigars, and pipes had been liberally provided. Mason & Hamlin were kind enough to furnish one of their fine upright pianos free of all cost. The arrangements made reflected great credit on the committee having charge of the entertainment.

Mr. Wing in his address read the following circular letter explaining the objects and aims of the League:

While the objects and aims of the Booksellers' League are concisely set forth in Article II. of the Constitution, viz.: "The objects of the League are the cultivation of fraternal relations among its members, and the furthering of the interests of their respective callings in such manner as the League may from time to time decide," yet the Board of Managers deem it advisable that a more comprehensive statement be made touching the more serious work of the League.

At the outset let it be clearly understood that the League is national, not sectional, in its tendencies, and that the establishment of auxiliary leagues in the various cities and towns of the United States is deemed most desirable. It is hoped that the social features of the League will ever be prominent, but we believe it is only by work of permanent value and of general interest to the trade that the society can insure to itself a long and useful career. To that end it is proposed, just as soon as the membership and finances will warrant, to inaugurate in addition to our meetings for social intercourse and enjoyment a series of lectures by accredited authorities on the various subjects of value chiefly to booksellers, publishers and stationers. It is intended that these lectures shall cover such subjects as literature in general, the history of printing, book publishing, bookselling, paper-making (including stationery), business methods; practical hints as to store management, and kindred topics too numerous to mention.

This system of education in the book trade and its allied branches must in time bring about a spirit of trade pride, and a desire to furnish necessary tools, and provide for the bettering of trade methods. It might not, therefore, be too sanguine to expect, for instance, that in time the League, trained to a knowledge of its needs and its responsibility, will lend its active co-operation in preparing and issuing bibliographical and other works of interest and value, not only to the book trade in this country, but to all interested in American books, wherever they may live.

As soon as practicable, permanent quarters should be secured, suitable for the needs of the club; and, with growing membership and widening scope, it will undoubtedly become not only desirable, but possible, to build a permanent home for the League, suited to all its varied business needs, and also of such character and management as to make it not only attractive, but a financial success.

Having, as we think, clearly though briefly stated the objects and aims of the League as now conceived, it remains for the members of the respective trades and professions in whose interest the League was organized to give the movement their cordial support by applying for membership, and thereby securing to the book and stationery trades and associate branches, a strong, active organization which, if properly managed on the lines indicated, must necessarily be productive of good results.

THE BLACKWELL EXHIBIT OF EX-LIBRIS.

THE great and increasing interest in book-plates has brought about a unique display at Brentano's, at Union Square, New York. Henry Blackwell, who is reported to have one of the largest collections of book-plates in New York, consented to their exhibit for the three days, ending to-day. The collection consists of nearly four thousand specimens, which it has taken its owner upwards of fifteen years to collect. Many of them are of intrinsic and personal interest, including those of the late Dr. Holmes, a beautiful engraving of "The Chambered Nautilus"; George Bancroft, the historian; Eugene Field, Oakley Hall, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, and of De Witt Clinton.

Brander Matthews' plate was designed by E. A. Abbey, and shows an American Indian discovering a mask of the old Greek comedy. E. C. Stedman's is a picture of Pan piping to the shepherds. Laurence Hutton's contains a small copy of Boehm's statuette of Thackeray. Others whose plates are included in this collection are S. P. Avery, Charles Dexter Allen, W. E. Baillie, Edward Hale Bierstadt, J. W. Bouton's well-known design by Cruikshank, Julia Sexton Coffin, Volney Streamer, and Henry Blackwell, the owner of the collection.

E. D. French, George Wharton Edwards, Hallyer, Hopson, and others are among the designers and engravers whose work is seen here. The collection contains many English and Canadian plates, besides the early American, and while there are perhaps not many varieties, it is a very comprehensive display. In connection with this exhibit there are also displayed heraldic devices, monograms, and crests, specimens of the work of the finest engravers in this country.

HELPS IN PREPARING FOR EXAMINATIONS FOR R.R. MAIL SERVICE.

INQUIRIES are frequently made as to the best "system" or method of studying for the railway mail service examinations. Such an inquiry recently received was referred to Mr. W. F. Stevens, librarian of the Railroad Branch of the Y. M. C. A., whose practical and comprehensive advice and suggestions should prove helpful to others having to meet similar queries. The first thing for the applicant to do is to write to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for an admittance card to the examinations and for the accompanying book of instructions. He should also study thoroughly the geography of the United States. Next in importance is the study of the railway systems of the United States, especially those in the State in which the examination is to be taken; this can best be accomplished by studying the maps in a good railway guide, and in the State railroad map, obtainable of the State R. R. Commissioners. Knowledge of arithmetic is essential, particularly the fundamental rules, common fractions, percentage and decimals. The applicant should also study abbreviations, letter-writing, and last but third in importance, the reading of different hand-writings.

The following list covers the most helpful literature for general reading and study of the subject:

CUSHING, M. The story of our post-office. Bost., A. M. Thayer & Co., 1893. 1034 p. il. 8°, $5.

The chapter on railway mail service gives a sample examination.

CLARK, T. C., et al. American railway. N. Y., Scribner, 1889. 456 p. il. 8°, $6.

CLARKE, W. H. Civil service laws. N. Y., C. T. Dillingham, 1891. 240 p. 12°, $1.

Besides giving all the general information on railroads that is needed, contains a special chapter on the railway mail service by T. L. James U. S. Postal laws and regulations. Washington, 1893. 256 p. 8°.

Supplied free by the Postmaster-General; more useful to employees than to applicants.

Postmaster-General's annual report. Washington. 1167 p. 8°.

CAXTON CLUB EXHIBITION.

A COLLECTION of rare books was exhibited last week in the Chicago Art Institute under the auspices of the Caxton Club. The loan of the Newberry Library, including the Probascio books, was probably the most famous contribution to the exhibition. Some of these are facsimiles of ancient music and illuminated manuscripts, but the greater number are modern works, bound to order for Mr. Probascio by the best French binders. Private collectors loaned books any one of which represented the cost of a respectable library. A book of local interest was one designed by Edward Kemeys, the sculptor. It is the legend of Little Panther, written on parchment in illuminated Indian characters. The covers are of copper-electro, modelled directly after designs by Kemeys.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

IN RE THE ADMISSION OF CANADIAN REPRINTS.

SOLICITOR-GENERAL REEVE, of the Treasury Department, in his opinion on request of Harper & Brothers that instructions be issued to collectors of customs to refuse admission into the United States of copies of "Ben-Hur" published abroad in violation of the copyright secured in this country, holds that the act of March 3, 1891, is not applicable to books copyrighted prior to that date. Therefore the book under consideration (having been copyrighted in 1880) is entitled to enter. We understand that an appeal from this decision is to be made, because if it is allowed to stand uncontested foreign editions of all American books copyrighted before 1891 might hereafter be imported free of duty and without regard to American copyright laws, which would necessarily interfere with the publishing business in this country.

COMMUNICATIONS.

"TRILBY"—AN EXPLANATION.

CHICAGO, March 6, 1895.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: Somehow the impression seems to have gotten abroad in the trade that we have issued a cheap, paper-covered edition of "Trilby." We have had several requests for this book. May we ask you to publish a notice in your columns stating that we do not issue an edition of this book (much as we would like to be able to do so), the only authorized edition being that of Messrs. Harper & Bros., New York City.

Yours truly,

W. B. CONKEY COMPANY.

OBITUARY NOTES.

CESARE CANTU, the historian of Italy, died in Milan, March 11. He was born near Milan in 1804. He was the author of "Margherita Pusterla," an historical romance, a work which has often been compared to the "Promessi Sposi" of Manzoni; "Storia Universale," "History of Italian Literature," "History of the Last Hundred Years," "History of the Italians," "Milano, Storia del Popolo e pel Popolo," and other works.

EDWIN FORBES, a well-known artist and war correspondent, died on the 6th inst., at his home, Lenox Road, Flatbush, L. I., fifty-five years of age. During the Civil War he was the special war correspondent for Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, and was present at nearly all the principal battles of the war. He was the author of a story of the war in twenty volumes, which had a large sale. He also invented an apparatus for starting race-horses. Mr. Forbes leaves a wife and daughter.

WILLIAM H. THOMES died in Boston, on the 7th inst. Mr. Thomes was born in Portland, Me., May 5, 1824, and brought up in Boston, where he learned the printer's trade. In his earlier years Mr. Thomes led an adventurous life, which furnished the groundwork for his numerous successful stories. In the fifties, after a trip to California and New Orleans, he settled down in Boston as the publisher and editor of Ballou's Monthly. Of his many books, the following were the best known: "The Gold Hunters of Australia," of which 48,000 copies were sold; "Life in the East Indies," which had a sale of 44,000 copies; "A Slaver's Adventures," 46,000; "A Whaleman's Adventures," 39,000; "The Bushrangers," 40,000; "The Gold Hunters in Europe," 35,000; "Running the Blockade," 30,000 copies, and "Lewey and I." "The Belle of Australia" was a strong attraction in Ballou's Monthly for a year, and was subsequently published in book form. His story of "Life on Land and Sea, or California in the Years '43, '44 and '45," related his own experiences in California as a young man.

PERSONAL NOTES.

E. J. CLODE, now with E. & J. B. Young & Co., will travel for Brentano's after April 1st.

GEORGE SULLY will leave for the West on the 18th with a new and attractive line of Estes & Lauriat's board books.

J. A. F. BOSWORTH, formerly with Hugh Glenn of Utica, has taken charge of the Philadelphia branch of the American Tract Society.

HENRY REED, who has been for thirty years with the firm of George Routledge & Sons, has left them, and will probably soon call upon the trade in another line.

WARREN SNYDER, for many years with Leggatt & Brother, of New York, and for the last eight years with John Wanamaker, has taken charge of the book department of Hilton, Hughes & Co., of New York. Manly M. Gilman, who has been known for some years as "John Wanamaker's $10,000-a-year advertising man," has also been won over to Hilton, Hughes & Co.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

CHARLES H. SERGEL COMPANY announces a cheap edition of Kidd's "Social Evolution"; also, "Society Pictures," by George Du Maurier.

MRS. LYNN LINTON's novel, "The New Woman," published last week by the Merriam Company, is published in England under the subtitle of "In Haste and at Leisure."

THE HARTFORD SEMINARY PRESS will publish on April 1, "Qualifications for Ministerial Powers," a series of lectures by the Rev. Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall, of Brooklyn.

THE COMMONWEALTH COMPANY (C. P. Somerby, 28 Lafayette Place, New York) will publish at once a cheap edition of "Merrie England," for which it is claimed that it is the clearest, most comprehensive and popular exposition of socialism ever written in English. It is by Robert Blatchford ("Nunquam"), editor of the Manchester (Eng.) weekly, The Clarion.

MRS. C. H. SPURGEON has issued a booklet entitled "The Book Fund and its Work." According to this account, last year 8403 volumes of her late husband's works and some other theological works were distributed, making a total of 154,735 volumes distributed in nineteen years. Of the sermons, 63,529 copies were distributed at home and abroad, 11,070 being in Russian, and 19,000 in Arabic, Argentine, Hindi, and Lettish languages.

SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON & Co. will publish early in the Spring, "The Decline and Fall of Napoleon," by General Lord Wolseley, and "The Rise of Wellington," by General Lord Roberts. They will be the first volumes of a new series, to be called The Pall Mall Magazine Library, being a republication in book form of some of the more important series of articles appearing from time to time in that periodical. The editors of the magazine, Lord Frederick Hamilton, M.P., and Sir Douglas Straight, will contribute an introduction to the series, which will be fully illustrated.

L. PRANG & Co. are in the field with a number of new booklets, cards and novelties for the Easter season. The designs are as fresh and beautiful as the spring flowers or the sunshine that warms them. Among the new booklets worthy of special mention are "The Shadow of the Angel," with verses by Ernest Warburton Shurtleff; "Deep Blue Violets," by Katherine L. Connor, and the floral booklets of sweet-peas, lilies of the valley, sweet-violets, heart's-ease, and pansies, in each of which the flower mentioned is the chief decoration. They have also a number of new quaint and amusing designs.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish shortly in book form the very interesting articles on bicycle riding by Miss Frances F. Willard, that are now appearing in several daily papers. The title will be "A Wheel within a Wheel, or, how I learned to ride a bicycle, with some reflections by the way." There will be a number of illustrations from photographs showing the stage of Miss Willard's progress in the art of bicycle riding. They will also republish at once the last address delivered by the late Dr. A. J. Gordon, under the title of "Risen with Christ." The topic being the Resurrection, the book is therefore fitly to be issued as an Easter booklet.

BUSINESS NOTES.

DENVER, COLO.—The stock of the Stone & Locke Book and Stationery Co. has been bought by Kelly & Westling, who will continue the business at the old place, 727 16th Street. Mr. Kelly was a member of the old company and Mr. Westling was manager of the book department, and formerly with MacFarlane of Detroit and McClurg & Co. of Chicago.

PITTSBURG, PA.—Frederick S. Stedman, representative for the sale of the publications of Estes & Lauriat, has removed his office to 215 Lewis Building.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—The E. W. Porter Co. has been incorporated, with a capital stock of $15,000, to deal in books and stationery. E. W. Porter, C. E. Porter, and Chas. H. Whipple are the incorporators.

TORONTO, CAN.—Proceedings were taken in the matter of The Williamson Book Co., in liquidation, to contest transfer to Messrs. Hyslop, Caulfield & Co., prior to the liquidation, of the stock in trade and book debts of this company, with the result that the official referee has decided that Hyslop, Caulfield & Co. were entitled to retain these securities. There being no other assets in the estate, creditors will not receive any dividend.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as "not having been received."

A Prosperous Retail Business in St. Augustine, Florida, Offered For Sale.

I own and conduct the most prosperous retail business in Books, Stationery, Artists' Materials and Souvenirs, in the city of St. Augustine. My store—known to all visitors to St. Augustine as El Unico—is in the best location in the city. The best people in the city trade with me, and I have educated them to pay cash for the goods I sell them; so that since I started this business seven years ago, I have not lost one hundred dollars in bad accounts.

A very large part of my custom is from the tourists who visit St. Augustine in Winter. I have lately added a confectionery department that is making money. My stock has been so carefully watched, and so closely sold out each year, that there is very little of it that is not fresh and salable at a good profit. Just now the opportunities for enlarging this business are exceptionally good. But because of the illness of my wife and a wish on my part to engage in an entirely different line of work, I want to sell my stock of goods, together with the good-will of the business. I expect to get a fair price for it, and will not sell it unless I do, but the price will be fair to the buyer as well as to me. I do not know just what the stock will inventory now, but the amount of money required will be not less than seven thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars. I am prepared to show any intelligent, energetic business man, that the investment will be a very profitable one.

I wish to sell for cash only. I will, if desired, give the buyer the benefit of my experience in making his purchases for the first season.

I invite any one who is interested in what I have said, to come to St. Augustine and investigate. My books show clearly what the profits have been, and they are open to any one who means business.

RUDYARD KIPLING'S PROSE TALES.

NEW UNIFORM EDITION. Six Volumes, 12mo, Cloth.

"There are passages in Kipling's Works that tempt one to exclaim, 'Here is genius!'"

UNDER THE DEODARS, THE PHANTOM 'RICKSHAW, AND WEE WILLIE WINKIE.

New edition, with additional matter now published for the first time. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"The author's gift is incommunicable. It is the gift of the true literary artist."

SOLDIERS THREE, THE STORY OF THE GADSBYS, and IN BLACK AND WHITE.

New edition, with additional matter now published for the first time. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"These stories are a permanent enrichment of our literature."

PLAIN TALES FROM THE HILLS.

New edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"Mr. Kipling knows and appreciates the English in India, and is a born story-teller and a man of humor into the bargain. . . . It would be hard to find better reading."—The Saturday Review, London.

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED.

New edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"Character, situation, incident, humor, pathos, tragic force, are all in abundance, words alone are at a minimum. Of course these are 'plain' tales—lightning flash tales. A gleam, and there the whole tragedy or comedy is before you—elaborate it for yourself afterwards."—Glasgow Herald.

LIFE'S HANDICAP.

Stories of Mine Own People. New edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"No volume of Rudyard Kipling's yet published gives a better illustration of his genius, and of the weird charm which has given his stories such deserved popularity."—Boston Daily Traveller.

THE NAULAHKA.

A Story of East and West. By RUDYARD KIPLING and WOLCOTT BALESTIER. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"What is the most surprising, and at the same time most admirable, in this book, is the manner in which Mr. Kipling seems to grasp the character of the native women; we know of nothing in the English language of its kind to compare with Chapter XX. in its delicacy and genuine sympathy."

ILLUSTRATED STANDARD NOVELS.

A new and attractive series of reprints of famous works of fiction, finely illustrated, with introductions by notable modern critics.

VOL. I. CASTLE RACKRENT, and THE ABSENTEE.

By MARIE EDGEWORTH. Illustrated by Miss Chris. Hammond. With an introduction by Anne Thackeray Ritchie. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"The republication of these Irish stories of Miss Edgeworth, in a form that is attractive and convenient, and at the same time inexpensive, is a distinct service that will be appreciated by many readers."—Phila. Times.

VOL. II. JAPHET IN SEARCH OF A FATHER.

By Captain MARRYAT. Illustrated by Henry M. Brock. With introduction by David Hannay. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"Introduced by Mr. Hannay in a biographical and critical essay of much interest. It is pleasant to have the work resuscitated in this tasteful garb."—London Globe.

Telepathy, Thought-Transference, Mind-Reading.

I. Introduction and General Considerations in Part II. II. Theories of Hypnotism. III. A Condensed Sketch of the History of Hypnotism. IV. Bibliography.

Dr. Cocke is a careful, and certainly an honest, experimentalist. He ought to know something about the subject, for he says: "I have hypnotized about one thousand three hundred and fifty people. The greater part of these were Americans, some negroes, quite a number French, a few Germans, and a few of the northern races, such as Danes, Russians, etc."—New York Herald.

"The author is to be congratulated on his good fortune in succeeding so admirably in accomplishing his object."—New England Medical Gazette.

"Dr. James R. Cocke treats this interesting subject very fully. The work is probably the best on the subject that has appeared in the English language."—Indianapolis Journal.

"One of the most interesting features of the volume is its treatment of hypnotism as a remedial agent."—Boston Advertiser.

"There is an entertaining chapter on 'Telepathy' and mind-reading, and, in fact, many other facts and theories of more than ordinary value."—Boston Traveller.

There are many curious facts in the book, the result of personal observation, upon the effects of hypnotism on inebriety, the morphine habit, nervous diseases, hallucinations, and many functional and some organic diseases.

THE CHRISTIAN STATE.

A Political Vision of Christ.

By the REV. GEO. D. HERRON, D.D., Professor of Applied Christianity at Grinnell College, Iowa. 16mo, gilt top, 75 cents; paper, 40 cents.

"Dr. Herron during the past year has probably elicited more criticism from the press and from his professional contemporaries than any other man in the American pulpit. His position has been greatly misunderstood. His message is not one of division, but of union; not one of destruction, but of construction. He would not destroy what is, but would pour into it a stimulant and a potency for more intense and remitting righteousness."

THE INEVITABLE

and Other Poems.

By SARAH KNOWLES BOLTON. With photographic portrait. 16mo, cloth, gilt top, rough edges, $1.00.

To the readers of Mrs. Bolton's biographical writings all over the country this little collection of her best poetical work will be very welcome. Some of these poems have been copied far and wide, others will for the first time appear in print.

Most Timely Book of the Year.

Military Career of Napoleon the Great.

By MONTGOMERY B. GIBBS.

Not a technical military history, but a gossip anecdotal account of the career of Napoleon Bonaparte as his marshals and generals knew him on the battle-field and around the camp-fire.

"With a reservation in favor of Lord Wolseley's papers on the same lines—which are, of course, more technical in tone—one knows of no equally entertaining and successful attempt to portray anecdotally the military career of the greatest captain since Caesar. Mr. Gibbs has rendered a valuable service to the Napoleonic literature."—Chicago Evening Post.

W. B. CONKEY COMPANY'S New Publications.

America's Celebrities.

A magnificent royal quarto volume, containing 256 full-page half-tone portraits of noted American men and women, each with a brief but comprehensive biographical sketch. Size of page 11 x 13 inches. Printed on heavy enamelled paper, each plate in two tints. Sumptuously bound in full buckram, with full gold edges and title. $4.00. [Now Ready.]

This book is a complete portrait gallery of those who are now building America's history, and is specially valuable inasmuch as it contains only subjects that were living at the date of compilation. Many portraits will be found of statesmen, merchants, preachers, authors, editors and philanthropists, with whose names the world is familiar, but whose faces are practically unknown. The selection has been made with great care, making the work an invaluable adjunct to both public and private libraries.

How Salvator Won, and Other Poems.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX. 12mo, cloth,
$1.00. [Now Ready.]

The poems of Mrs. Wilcox have been widely used by public readers and elocutionists, many of them being peculiarly adapted for such purposes. Lately it has become the fashion with leading entertainers to devote entire evenings to her works. In compliance with the demand, this volume has been written and arranged by the gifted poetess. It is uniform in size and style with "Poems of Passion," "Poems of Pleasure," and "Maurine," containing a great many poems never before published and written expressly for this work, and all of them more or less dramatic and suitable for public reading and recitation.

The Strange Case of Henry Toplass and Captain Shiers.

By JOHN W. POSTGATE. 12mo, paper, 25 cents; half imitation morocco, 50 cents. [Now Ready.]

An absorbing story of a dual life, written by one of Chicago's best-known journalists. It abounds in strong situations and intricate plot, and reminds the reader at times of Robert Louis Stevenson's masterpiece, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," though at the same time entirely different and original.

A Little Queen of Tragedy.

By LAURA B. MARSH. 12mo, paper, 25 cents; half imitation morocco, 50 cents.

[Ready May 1.]

Lovers of entertaining fiction will find a feast in this new book by a popular Western authoress. The plot is both strong and novel. The volume also contains a short sketch by the same authoress, entitled, "Overcoming the Storm," which received the $500 prize recently offered by The Youth's Companion for the best story.

Watch for our new line of 1895 Board-Covered Juvenile Books, which will positively be the most attractive ever issued.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We beg leave to notify the trade that we have in active preparation our catalogues for 1895-96, and expect to issue them earlier this year than usual. As we purpose making many additions and improvements to our lines, it has seemed best to anticipate the publication of the catalogue, and below will be found a brief summary of the principal changes in our list over that of the past year. Other new features are in contemplation and will be announced later in the season.

LOVELL, CORYELL & COMPANY.

STANDARD SETS.

We shall improve the bindings and quality of all the Standard Sets. Recent additions are "Green's History of the English People," from new plates, illustrated with photogravure and half-tone illustrations; also "McCarthy's History of Our Own Times," handsome new plates, the history brought down to date from 1880 by a competent writer (this added matter is really well done), and illustrated with half-tone portraits.

CENTURY SERIES.

This well-known line will be enlarged by the addition of many titles of fast-selling standard works, and will be issued in a new dress, with gilt top.

NEW OXFORD 12mos.

We shall add 50 titles of best-selling standard works to this series.

THREE NEW SERIES OF 50-CENT PAPER NOVELS.

These series will be issued in covers of new and original design, and will contain the very best International Fiction. Two are now ready, viz: the Windermere and Lakewood. The Belgravia will be issued late this month.

INTERNATIONAL BOOK COMPANY.

NEW RED LETTER SERIES—Paper Covers.

We are adding to this series 100 new titles, in addition to the 50 of last year's list. The new issues are being brought out daily, and the line will shortly be complete. Covers will be entirely new in pattern.

NEW ALDINE 12mos.

This line, formerly known as the "Columbus 12mos," will have an entirely new and original binding, and the list will be enlarged by the addition of 50 new titles.

ALDINE TWO-VOLUME SETS.

Also new style binding, with additions to the list.

ALDINE SETS OF STANDARD AUTHORS.

To supersede the "Columbus" Sets; will be bound in a new pattern, distinct from that of the 12mos.

POPULAR SETS OF STANDARD AUTHORS.

This line will have an entirely new dress.

POPULAR TWO-VOLUME SETS.

Also new style binding, with additions to the list.

ST. NICHOLAS 12mos.

This attractive line of Juvenile Works will be strengthened by the addition of 50 new titles to the list. We have also in preparation a new series of 12mos, especially for girl readers.

JUVENILE SETS.

Will appear in a new binding, with additions to the line.

POPULAR HALF CALF SETS, GILT TOP.

Will be our leader this season. Entirely new and better bindings than have ever been put on the market before, with improvement in sheet stock.

—THE UNITED STATES BOOK COMPANY will act, as heretofore, as the manufacturers for LOVELL, CORYELL & COMPANY and THE INTERNATIONAL BOOK COMPANY.

The NEW LINE OF SAMPLES will be ready shortly, when our salesmen will have the pleasure of calling upon you and soliciting your orders for present and Fall delivery.

Yours very truly,

UNITED STATES BOOK COMPANY.

310-318 Sixth Avenue, New York.
